ATLANTA, Sept. 17.—Martial law was proclaimed for the entire state of Georgia by Governor Eugene Talmadge today.

The order was issued at 10:30 o'clock this morning, the proclamation ordering the national guard to "preserve order and protect the lives and property of all citizens of the state."

It followed disorders resulting from the textile strike, which during two weeks have caused four deaths and resulted in scores of injuries.

Mobilize Entire Guard

Mobilization of every unit of the National Guard already had been ordered, and 3,700 men were under arms, with nearly a score of companies already on active strike duty.

The martial law proclamation was issued simultaneously with the launching of a campaign of wholesale arrests of strike pickets, 43 being placed under military arrest at Newnan, one of the most threatening points in the state.

First action of a special "flying squadron" created by Adj. Gen. Lindley camp to entrap flying squadrons of strikers and sympathizers was seen at Newnan, where general camp placed 43 persons under military arrest.

The "flying squadron," composed

New Castle Fair Opens On Tuesday

From the young tad of six to the old codger of ninety six tomorrow means but one thing—the opening of the New Castle fair. All summer long they've waited for the day when they could get out to the grounds on the Harlanburg road, get a sack of peanuts and sit in the grandstand as the horses go by.

It is going to be a real fair this year according to A. C. Shoaf, manager. Forty of the fastest harness horses in this part of the country are stabled in the speed barns, and nearby are 20 of the runners.

HEAVY DELUGE STRIKES CENTRAL STATE REGION

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—Death and destruction today lay in the wake of the heavy rainfall that lashed Central Pennsylvania over the week end.

At least one death, thousands of dollars in property damage and numerous automobile accidents were attributed to the downpour that whipped streams throughout the regions into flood stages, inundated several communities and demolished traffic and highway travel.

Rushing flood waters in Middle Creek near Selinsgrove swept away a timber dam of the Pennsylvania Power and Light company and several houses.

Relief Measures Up For Action In Senate Tonight

Expect Speedy Action On

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—Providing an anti-climax to the 1934 special session of the legislature, the senate tonight starts the Pinchot-organization taxless relief financing program over a virtually unobstructed path to enactment.

The nine measures, transferring $14,661,000 from seven state funds and appropriating the money to relief, old assistance and expenses of the session, were slated to be given first reading in the upper chamber tonight.

May Not Debate Bills.

Democratic opposition to the bills in the senate by sheer lack of numerical strength cannot be even as imposing as it was in the house where the nine measures were jammed through to final passage in 30 minutes by heavy majorities. There were even reports today that the minority party senators would not attempt to debate the bills, permitting them to be passed finally in the senate merely with their votes recorded in opposition.

Present plans call for first reading of the measures tonight, second reading tomorrow and final passage Wednesday, with sine die adjournment the same day. The final adjournment may be held up until Thursday because of Yom Kippur, which is celebrated between sunset Tuesday and sunset Wednesday.

Falling leaves beginning to be a traffic menace again. Auto drivers should beware of skidding on wet highways that are partly covered with leaves.

Tomorrow is the second chance of New Castle citizens to register to vote at the November election. No tax receipt is needed to register this fall.

Smoke curling out of the chimney at the post office this morning made it seem all the more that summer was doing a grand finale—but maybe not.

About this time of the year the staff of New Castle's Y. M. C. A. goes into a huddle to deliberate upon its general program for the busy fall and winter months. General Secretary R. L. Meermans and his secretarial aids are doing that these days, mapping out for the local youth a new schedule of recreation for the physical and boys' departments. But we think this season will top those of the past because it is probable that new ideas, like in other years, will be offered.

Water was reported rapidly rising in underground passageways of mines in Schuylkill, Northumberland and Carbon counties. Company officials, relying on pumps, said the situation was not yet menacing.

The residential section of Lewisburg was inundated by what residents described as the worst storm since 1889.

A bridge spanning a creek on the Watsontown-Montgomery highway near Williamsport was damaged and a railroad underpass was filled with water. The Williamsport-Harrisburg highway was under three feet of water at Muncy and the Milton intersection was flooded.

Rising water in the Yellow Breeches creek at Mt. Holly Springs left residents in suspense and fear when it was reported that the dam at the Eaton-Dickeman paper mill was weakening. The water subsided this morning, however, and it was believed that danger had passed.

Three highways in Central Pennsylvania were reported, blocked by water and debris early today by the state highway department which reported traffic was being detoured and that workers expected to open the routes before noon.

SKELDON-FISCHER
WEDDING IN CHURCH

At high noon Saturday, September 15, the wedding of Nancy Elizabeth Skeldon of Youngstown, to Clair Woodworth Fischer of Youngstown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Fischer of Sheridan avenue, was solemnized in Harris Memorial church, Ashtabula, O., by Rev. W. S. Morley, pastor.

Father and tall standards of glad-tidings lent beauty to the altar before which the vows were exchanged in the presence of relatives and many friends.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, J. Russell Skeldon of Philadelphia, was most attractive in her wedding gown of madcap blue transparent velvet, floor length, with tricorn hat and long gloves of the same material. Her slippers were blue suede and kid combined. She carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses, blue delphinium and white locust with maidenhair fern.

Miss Jane Skeldon, as her sister's only attendant, wore brown crepe, only attendant, wore brown crepe, and diamond, and floor length. A brown tricorn hat, slippers, and gloves harmonized and her shoulder corsage was of Talisman roses with maiden hair fern, tied with gold ribbon. Paul S. Fischer of Fairfield avenue, served his brother as best man.

A lovely organ program of nuptial music was played preceding and during the ceremony, numbers including Handel's "Largo," "At Dawning," "Perfect Day," "Ave Maria" with the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" for the processional and Mendelssohn's Wedding March for the recessional.

An informal reception at the church followed with scores of good wishes being extended the young couple.

In the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Nancy E. Cross, 620 Lake avenue, the wedding breakfast was served. Covers for fourteen, the immediate families, were arranged at one long table artistically decorated with the wedding cake and low bowls of white asters and candelabras holding Princess tapers, on either end. Appointments were carried out in white wedding bells and green foliage.

Upon their return from a trip to eastern points of interest, the young couple will go to housekeeping in a newly furnished apartment at 153 West Dennick Avenue, Youngstown. They will be "at home" to relatives and friends after October 15.

Beautiful garden flowers were used about the house in decorations and the sides in serving a dainty luncheon were Mrs. Ira Stickle, Mrs. Woods and Miss Helen Reed.

The guest of honor received a number of lovely gifts.

DINNERS FOR SEVERAL COUSINS

The bride has been one of Youngstown's well known teachers in the Elm street school for a number of years. She is a graduate of Kent Normal school and attended State college. Many lovely parties given in her honor previous to the wedding, were pretty compliments to her popularity.

RECOVERY IN ENGLAND

GERARD SWOPE, large industrialist, recently has returned from a visit to England. His observations on general conditions there are especially interesting, due to the similarity of the problems in England and America growing out of the depression.

A great improvement in employment has taken place in England, said Mr. Swope. The list of persons receiving insurance benefits had declined from 2,508,000 in July of last year to 2,162,000 in July of this year. Normally, he explained, the unemployed in England total about a million.

Children of 14 years of age are permitted to work, but, despite this, he said his company had found it hard to obtain young people to train for work in its English plants.

"England had the depression in 1928," he pointed out, "much earlier than we had it here, and the effects of British policies are now beginning to be felt. The people seem to feel that everything that can be done is being done."

Concerning housing he found that the number of small dwellings being built by private capital in England is 25 per cent greater than last year, plenty of money being available at 5 per cent. Government-financing of home construction is on the decrease.

Although the cost of living has increased, it is only about 2 per cent higher now than it was last year. Generally, he said, the cost since 1931 had increased more than in the United States.

Whatever may be the responsible factors in English recovery, the important thing is that material recovery is taking place.

The fact that England is making such satisfactory progress back to normal, whatever may be the causes, can not but prove to be encouraging on this side where it may become a stimulating factor in American industrial life. Nations are so closely related to each other, in social and economic matters, that conditions in one easily may influence those the world over.

HIGHER PORK CHOPS

The rapid rise in the price of hogs during the last few months naturally is hailed in the hog country. It will mean millions of dollars in extra money to the raisers of hogs on a commercial scale.

The advance was caused by the drouth and the measures put into effect by the AAA to reduce the hog "crop." At the time the reduction steps were taken, it was not known, of course, that nature would come along and take a hand in the matter and cut down the output far below the figures aimed at by the AAA.

Charles E. Snyder, a corn belt editor, sees the price advance as one of the most reliable signs that recovery is progressing. "To the business men and to the people generally," he comments, "The price of pork is the most vital trade index. Everybody ought to be glad to see $10 hogs. Hogs at that level, and kept there, afford the best possible promise of good times."

Mr. Holt speaks largely from the viewpoint of the hog raiser. He ignores that class of consumer who has failed to receive a wage increase comparable with the rapid rise that has taken place in the price of hogs and other commodities. There remains quite a number of these.

LEAGUE IN SESSION

If the League of Nations could and should settle the problems confronting it in its present meeting in Geneva, a large share of the world's troubles would be ended and peace would reign where wars and rumors of wars now exist.

Among the big questions to be tackled is the Austrian independence that is not directly at issue in the case before the league which deals mainly with Austria's financial condition, it remains in the background as a potentially important factor. Another troublesome problem relates to the Saar valley, now administered by the league but which will decide in a plebiscite next January whether to return to France, to Germany or remain under the league's wing.

On this side of the Atlantic, the league still has before it the war between Bolivia and Paraguay which it has striven in vain to end. Bolivia protests the arms embargo sponsored by the league, charging that an embargo can not be properly laid until the league has, at first, ascertained which party is in the wrong.

Other questions relate to the admission of Russia as a member of the league; Turkey's claim to the permanent seat on the council vacated by China; protection of national minority groups in Poland and in Upper Silesia; establishment of the Assyrians in Iraq, or their transfer to form a colony in Brazil, and a proposal for control of manufacture of oil and traffic in arms.

In addition to outside matters, the league is expected at least to discuss matters pertaining to its own reorganization in an effort to repair the damage to it caused by the withdrawal of Germany and Japan. It is regarded as not improbable that all present non-members of the league may be invited to join.

The present is the eighty-first session of the league council and the assembly's fifteenth. If the present sessions are to be judged by the results of previous meetings, the prospect is that most of the big problems slated for attention will be left unsolved.

PAY FOR THE EXTRA SESSION

Members of the Legislature are legally entitled to $500 each, with an allowance for mileage added whenever a special session is called. That is fair enough when the session is extended over many weeks. But in the present instance six or seven legislative days will probably cover all activities.

A majority of the House members have voted to pay themselves the entire amount. Considering the indicated brevity of the session and the fact that it is concerned exclusively with unemployment relief, this action is without valid defense. Governor Pinchot made a suggestion which should have been accepted without cavil. He proposed $10 a day for the coverage of expenses with the usual mileage. Every Senator and every Representative should be willing to serve on those terms, for the recompense is sufficient to cover personal costs and leave something over. To demand $500 for not more than a week's actual work savors largely of selfish profiteering.

The House has made a mistake. This can and should be rectified by the Senate.

OLD HAT, OLD LIFE

That old gray hat lying on the table over there didn't look like that once. A few months ago it was new and clean and the latest thing in hats. I hardly dared to wear it, it was so immaculate, with the narrow ribbon and the little ventilator holes in its sides. When I wore it down the street, anybody could see that that fellow had a new hat and that it didn't go with the rest of him, not with his shoes, not with his comfortable clothes, nor his face, either.

Didn't feel so comfortable in it, for that matter. Too new. Too easy to soil. Too much "the latest thing." Of course, there was a certain unpleasant sensation in wearing a nice new hat. Everybody knows that, but every man also knows that he doesn't feel quite right until his new hat has some of the brand newness worn away.... He isn't really comfortable in it, or until that happens.

But now the old hat is quite all right. It has spoons on it. Its light gray is a darker gray now. If I look under the ribbon I can see where the color has changed slightly. And under the brim at the back is a place where somebody—not I—has burned it with a cigarette. Not a bad burn. Just a little one that doesn't disturb me at all.... And if I turn it over and look inside I can see how the old hat has taken the shape of my head, fairly straight on western sides bulging out a bit at the southeast corner, like all hats I've ever worn.

I'm at ease in it now. It is at ease on me. We belong to each other. It's mine. I belong to it. We are an easy going pair at last, and we understand each other and fit each other. As all a man's clothes finally come to fit him and as—he if has any luck, any common sense, any philosophy worth the name—finally comes to fit this adventure we call life. After the newness wears off a life and a man learns a bit of what it is like and becomes used to its ups and downs, its rules and regulations, its pains and its joys, its possibilities and its limitations, his life grows to resemble that old hat over there on the table and he gets to have an affection for it and he wouldn't trade it for any other.... Because it is HIS.

CURB YOUR UNREASONABLE DISLIKES

There are certain people you dislike without apparent reason.

They have done nothing to merit dislike from you or your friends.

You make no effort to refrain from expressing your dislike.

In so doing you do them great damage, since you are not intimate enough with those of whom you speak so ill.

Why not be fair and reserve adverse comment—if you must make it—for those who are known to be really mean?

These people you dislike have friends who do appreciate their company.

You may not be able to comprehend it, but it's nevertheless true.

It might be well for you remember these friends may resent your remarks.

They may know that you are entirely to blame for your feelings.

You may be jealous of certain qualities you do not possess.

Mean remarks or mere shrugs when a person is mentioned are a pretty fair indication that jealousy exists.

It might be better to keep still than have people think you jealous.

It is a fair better plan to say the good you can: keep silent if you cannot say something favorable.

It is a peculiar twist in your makeup that makes you dislike certain persons without definite reason.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WILL HE?—HAS HE?

The irritating problem of "runners" in ladies' silk stockings is said to have been solved by a Scotchman, Robert Mills, of London.

Seven years ago, experimenting with a knitting needle and pieces of string, Mills knitted a stitch which would not run. That was only the beginning. A knitting machine then had to be made which would produce these runner-proof stitches.

This has been accomplished and Mills will make a fortune (?) as have many other inventors who have produced an article of as universal demand as runner proof stockings for women.

The feminine world has been waiting a long time for such a stocking and if it is true Mills has such a machine he ought to make a fortune.

It is an illuminating reflection on our modern times to note that a lot of the present-day necessities of life include a long list of non-essentials.

Later on the road that is paved with good intentions develops a lot of rough construction work.

Traffic note in an English paper emphasizes the warning that the right hand should be held out as far as possible at least 20 or 30 yards before making the turn."

And then if anything happens it can doubtless be blamed on the long arm of coincidence.

The only thing that makes law effective is the fact that most people are willing to behave without it.

That is, General Johnson will have complete authority over everything but coal and steel and Ford.

RECOVERY IN ENGLAND

GERARD SWOPE, large industrialist, recently has returned from a visit to England. His observations on general conditions there are especially interesting, due to the similarity of the problems in England and America growing out of the depression.

A great improvement in employment has taken place in England, said Mr. Swope. The list of persons receiving insurance benefits had declined from 2,508,000 in July of last year to 2,162,000 in July of this year. Normally, he explained, the unemployed in England total about a million.

Children of 14 years of age are permitted to work, but, despite this, he said his company had found it hard to obtain young people to train for work in its English plants.

"England had the depression in 1928," he pointed out, "much earlier than we had it here, and the effects of British policies are now beginning to be felt. The people seem to feel that everything that can be done is being done."

Concerning housing he found that the number of small dwellings being built by private capital in England is 25 per cent greater than last year, plenty of money being available at 5 per cent. Government-financing of home construction is on the decrease.

Although the cost of living has increased, it is only about 2 per cent higher now than it was last year. Generally, he said, the cost since 1931 had increased more than in the United States.

Whatever may be the responsible factors in English recovery, the important thing is that material recovery is taking place.

The fact that England is making such satisfactory progress back to normal, whatever may be the causes, can not but prove to be encouraging on this side where it may become a stimulating factor in American industrial life. Nations are so closely related to each other, in social and economic matters, that conditions in one easily may influence those the world over.

HIGHER PORK CHOPS

The rapid rise in the price of hogs during the last few months naturally is hailed in the hog country. It will mean millions of dollars in extra money to the raisers of hogs on a commercial scale.

The advance was caused by the drought and the measures put into effect by the AAA to reduce the hog "crop." At the time the reduction steps were taken, it was not known, of course, that nature would come along and take a hand in the matter and cut down the output far below the figures aimed at by the AAA.

Charles E. Snyder, a corn belt editor, sees the price advance as one of the most reliable signs that recovery is progressing. "To the business men and to the people generally," he comments, "The price of pork is the most vital trade index. Everybody ought to be glad to see $10 hogs. Hogs at that level, and kept there, afford the best possible promise of good times."

Mr. Holt speaks largely from the viewpoint of the hog raiser. He ignores that class of consumer who has failed to receive a wage increase comparable with the rapid rise that has taken place in the price of hogs and other commodities. There remains quite a number of these.

LEAGUE IN SESSION

If the League of Nations could and should settle the problems confronting it in its present meeting in Geneva, a large share of the world's troubles would be ended and peace would reign where wars and rumors of wars now exist.

Among the big questions to be tackled is the Austrian independence is not directly at issue in the case before the league which deals mainly with Austria's financial condition, it remains in the background as a potentially important factor. Another troublesome problem relates to the Saar valley, now administered by the league but which will decide in a plebiscite next January whether to return to France, to Germany or remain under the league's wing.

On this side of the Atlantic, the league still has before it the war between Bolivia and Paraguay which it has striven in vain to end. Bolivia protests the arms embargo sponsored by the league, charging that an embargo can not be properly laid until the league has, at first, ascertained which party is in the wrong.

Other questions relate to the admission of Russia as a member of the league; Turkey's claim to the permanent seat on the council vacated by China; protection of national minority groups in Poland and in Upper Silesia; establishment of the Assyrians in Iraq, or their transfer to a colony in Brazil, and a proposal for control of manufacture of and traffic in arms.

In addition to outside matters, the league is expected at least to discuss matters pertaining to its own reorganization in an effort to repair the damage to it caused by the withdrawal of Germany and Japan. It is regarded as not improbable that all present non-members of the league may be invited to join.

The present is the eighty-first session of the league council and the assembly's fifteenth. If the present sessions are to be judged by the results of previous meetings, the prospect is that most of the big problems stated for attention will be left unsolved.

PAY FOR THE EXTRA SESSION

Members of the Legislature are legally entitled to $500 each, with an allowance for mileage added whenever a special session is called. That is fair enough when the session is extended over many weeks. But in the present instance six or seven legislative days will probably cover all activities.

A majority of the House members have voted to pay themselves the entire amount. Considering the indicated brevity of the session and the fact that it is concerned exclusively with unemployment relief, this action is without valid defense. Governor Pinchot made a suggestion which should have been accepted without cavil. He proposed $10 a day for the coverage of expenses with the usual mileage. Every Senator and every Representative should be willing to serve on those terms, for the recompense is sufficient to cover personal costs and leave something over. To demand $500 for not more than a week's actual work savors largely of selfish profiteering.

The House has made a mistake. This can and should be rectified by the Senate.

OLD HAT, OLD LIFE

That old gray hat lying on the table over there didn't look like that once. A few months ago it was new and clean and the latest thing in hats. I hardly dared to wear it, it was so immaculate, with the narrow ribbon and the little ventilator holes in its sides. When I wore it down the street, anybody could see that that fellow had a new hat, and that it didn't go with the rest of him, not with his shoes, not with his comfortable clothes, nor his face, either.

Didn't feel so comfortable in it, for that matter. Too new. Too easy to soil. Too much "the latest thing" ... Of course, there was a certain not-unpleasant sensation in wearing a nice new hat. Everybody knows that, but every man also knows that he doesn't feel quite right until his new hat has some of the brand newness worn away.... He isn't really comfortable in it, or under it, until that happens.

But now the old hat is quite all right. It has spots on it. Its light gray is a darker gray now. If I look under the ribbon I can see where the color has changed slightly. And under the brim at the back is a place where somebody—not I—has burned it with a cigarette. Not a bad burn. Just a little one that doesn't disturb me at all. And if I turn it over and look inside I can see how the old hat has taken the shape of my head, fairly straight on western side, bulging out a bit at the southeast corner like all hats I've ever worn.

I'm at ease in it now. It is at ease on me. We belong to each other. It's mine. It belongs to me. We are an easy going pair at last, and we understand each other and fit each other. As all a man's clothes finally come to fit him and his hat—if he has any luck, any common sense, any philosophy, worth the name—finally comes to fit this adventure we call life. After the newness wears off a little and a man learns a bit of what it is like and becomes used to its ups and downs, its vicissitudes and regulations its pains and its joys, its possibilities and its limitations. His life grows to resemble that old hat over there on the table and he gets to have an affection for it and he wouldn't trade it for any other... Because it is HIS.

CURB YOUR UNREASONABLE DISLIKES

There are certain people you dislike without apparent reason.

They have done nothing to merit dislike from you or your friends.

You make no effort to refrain from expressing your dislike.

In so doing do you them great damage, since you are not intimately acquainted with those of whom you speak so ill.

Why not be fair and reserve adverse comment—if you must make it—for those who are known to be really mean?

These folks you dislike have friends who do appreciate their company.

You may not be able to comprehend it, but it's nevertheless true.

It might be well for you remember these friends may resent your remarks.

They may know that you are entirely to blame for your feelings.

You may be jealous of certain qualities you do not possess.

Mean remarks or mere shrugs when a person is mentioned are a pretty fair indication that jealousy exists.

It might be better to keep still than have people think you jealous.

It is a far better plan to say the good you can: keep silent if you cannot say something favorable.

It is a peculiar twist in your makeup that makes you dislike certain persons without definite reason.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WILL HE?—HAS HE?

The irritating problem of "runners" in ladies' silk stockings is said to have been solved by a Scotchman, Robert Mills, of London.

Seven years ago, experimenting with a knitting needle and pieces of string, Mills knitted a stitch which would not run. That was only the beginning. A knitting machine then had to be made which would produce these runner-proof stitches.

This has been accomplished and Mills will make a fortune (?) as he is as many other inventors who have produced an article of as universal demand as runner-proof stockings for women.

The feminine world has been waiting a long time for such a stocking and if it is true Mills has such a machine he ought to make a fortune.

It is an illuminating reflection on our modern times to note that a lot of the present-day necessities of life include a long list of non-essentials.

Later on the road that is paved with good intentions develops a lot of faulty construction work.

Traffic note in an English paper emphasizes the warning that "the right hand should be held out as far as possible at least 20 or 30 yards before making the turn."

And then if anything happens it can doubtless be blamed on the long chain of coincidence.

New England Unhappy
Spirit Of Change in Air
Textile Industry Feels Pinch

Central Press

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—Night life in Boston seems second only to New York, in America. But New England seems unhappy. The spirit of change is in the air. Change may mean a changed New England. It will be difficult for the old New Englanders to change.

The textile strike has brought a bitter determination to New England.

Employers set their jaws firmly and defied anybody to force them to operate their plants under conditions set by the NRA and strikers.

Strikers, on their side, set their jaws in an equally grim firmness and asserted "Even with the national guard on the side of the employers, strikers would hold out to the 'bitter' end, for rights they held essential to livelihood."

A REPUBLICAN

To add to the uncertainty of the times politically, even New England has begun to doubt party loyalty.

The Republican's weren't entirely pleased with the "victory" of the one Republican representative they put over in Maine.

Former Governor Brewster, elected to congress from the Third district, was denounced in 1932 as a radical by Republican National Committee Simpson of Maine.

Brewster, as a matter of fact, lines up with the western progressives—and they are Republicans in name only.

NO LOANS

President Roosevelt is urging national bank examiners not to be too severe on loans. Or, rather, he is urging a "rule of reason" or judging whether loans are good or not.

Raymond Moley told this writer that bankers had informed him the bank examiners were largely to blame for the refusal or recall of many legitimate loans.

Moley implied that he was relay-ing the information to the president. But the credit situation requires more fundamental treatment than that.

AROUND CITY HALL

Chronology for 48 hours at 3:30 p.m., September 16: 27 arrests on charges as follows—drunkenness 4, suspicion 4, violating traffic regulations 4, double parking 1, failure to obey stop sign 1, drunkenness and begging 1, violating parking ordinance 8, proprietor disorderly house 3, interfering with an officer 1.

City of New Castle police activities Saturday night resulted in fines amounting to $415, which is more than were paid during the month of August. The total last month was $357. The money came from arrests of persons for operating disorderly houses, interference with an officer and violation of laws concerning automobiles.

Police will have completed their vacation period within a day or more, and when they have all returned to their duties it is expected Police Chief Haven will formally make assignments to the cruiser cars. Each police car will have two operatives. They will answer calls in the district to which the car is assigned.

Five drivers of automobiles were arrested by police on a charge of speeding in Wilmington avenue Saturday—that is, the names of five persons who paid for the privilege were on the city dockets. Commenting on the arrests, Chief Haven said warnings to not speed had not been obeyed, hence the police effort to curb it immediately.

City Engineer Hoskins has not yet secured approval of his project for an engineering corps, but expects that as soon as is possible the RWD will approve the project. This corps will be paid by the RWD and will map out the plans for the projects which the city desires to have put through. As soon as funds are available it is expected that a large number of men will be put to work.

Largest Freshman Class Enters State

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 17.—The largest freshman class ever matriculated in the Pennsylvania State College marked the diamond anniversary of the admission of the first students to the college three-quarters of a century ago.

While 60 students comprised the entering class in 1859, the number this year is slightly in excess of 1400, the number agreed upon as about the limit the college can accommodate in the freshman class. Enlargement of laboratory facilities enabled the college to increase the number of first year students this year by 150.

With matriculation of freshmen virtually completed, students in the upper classes are being registered today and tomorrow. On Wednesday afternoon class work for the year will commence.

Return of upper class students over the week-end points to as large an enrollment in these three classes as in former years and indicate a new high enrollment record for the college.

Five-Day Schedule For Relief Office

Continuing Summer Hours At CERC Headquarters; Cut Saturday Work

Headquarters of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief office will continue to operate with just a skeleton force on Saturdays, as it has during the summer months. Executive Director E. H. Robinson announces. The five-day schedule was approved in a recent order by Harrisburg officers.

Daily hours for the local office will be 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. with but a minimum of activity on Saturdays.

The schedule will be in force all winter.

AROUND CITY HALL

Chronology for 48 hours at 3:30 p. m., September 16: 27 arrests on charges as follows—drunkenness 4, suspicion 4, violating traffic regulations 4, double parking 1, failure to obey stop sign 1, drunkenness and beggar 1, violating parking ordinance 8, proprietor disorderly house 3, interfering with an officer 1.

City of New Castle police activities Saturday night resulted in fines amounting to $415, which is more than were paid during the month of August. The total last month was $387. The money came from arrests of persons for operating disorderly houses, interference with an officer and violation of laws concerning automobiles.

Police will have completed their vacation period within a day or more, and when they have all returned to their duties it is expected Police Chief Haven will formally make assignments to the cruiser cars. Each police car will have two operatives. They will answer calls in the district to which the car is assigned.

Five drivers of automobiles were arrested by police on a charge of speeding in Wilmington avenue Saturday—that is, the names of five persons who paid for the privilege were on the city dockets. Commenting on the arrests, Chief Haven said warnings to not speed had not been obeyed, hence the police effort to curb it immediately.

City Engineer Hoskins has not yet secured approval of his project for an engineering corps, but expects that as soon as possible the RWD will approve the project. This corps will be paid by the RWD and will map out the plans for the projects which the city desires to have put through. As soon as funds are available it is expected that a large number of men will be put to work.

Largest Freshman Class Enters State

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 17.—The largest freshman class ever matriculated in the Pennsylvania State College marked the diamond anniversary of the admission of the first students to the college three-quarters of a century ago.

Where 69 students comprised the entering class in 1859, the number this year is slightly in excess of 1400, the number agreed upon as about the limit the college can accommodate in the freshman class. Enlargement of laboratory facilities enabled the college to increase the number of first year students this year by 150.

With matriculation of freshmen virtually completed, students in the upper classes are being registered today and tomorrow. On Wednesday afternoon class work for the year will commence.

Return of upper class students over the week-end points to as large an enrollment in these three classes as in former years and indicate a new high enrollment record for the college.

County Commissioners made a tour of the state line road during the latter part of last week. This is the road which Ohio commissioners of Mahoning county have asked the county commissioners here to join with them in improving as a relief project, and it looks as though the work will be done. The road is laid out along the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line, half of it being in each state. In working the road it has been the custom for each county to work alternate sections.

Local scouts who expect to advance in rank to second or first class, are asked to meet at the council office, Green building, on Monday, September 24, to be prepared for a board of review.

The scout's test card should be fully signed, and he should bring it with him for this review. Merit badge applications should be in the council office by the 24th.

Tomorrow, September 18, will be the second registration day in New Castle. Every person who wishes to cast a ballot at the November election must place his or her name on the new list of voters compiled on the three registration days. It would be well for every person who can possibly get out to-morrow to register as something might happen to the registration.

Recommendation of the recent grand jury that the court house basement be excavated and a vault built for the storing of records, has been referred by the court to the county commissioners.

There are now seventy-one attorneys practicing at the Lawrence county bar, according to the latest list compiled by Prothonotary R. M. Campbell in the trial list pamphlet just issued.

Time limit for the filing of petitions to vote on local option at the November election has now expired, according to County Commissioners' Clerk, William A. Eakin. There have been no additions to the list of petitions already published.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts calls attention to the fact that it is still necessary for an applicant to be identified before a hunting license is issued. The identification may be by an automobile driver's license, lodger card, or any other method which will satisfy the treasurer.

The monthly meeting of the Loyal Ladies class of the Calvary Presbyterian church was held on September 11, at the home of Mrs. I. A. Lytle. The early part of the evening was taken up with business after which entertainment in charge of Mrs. Bessie Becker and Mrs. Ruth Lawrachis. Prizes were won by Mrs. R. J. Fredericks, Mrs. Olive Powell and Mrs. Margaret Woods.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Lutz, Mrs. May Allen, and Mrs. Margaret Woods.

Mayor And Chief Aid Liquor Raids

Accompany Police On Raiding Expedition To West Reynolds Street

Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Police Chief John F. Haven were members of several raiding squads which arrested alleged operatives of disorderly houses at 11 o'clock Saturday night.

In two of the houses the officers found unstamped liquor, and in another place one of the men who was in the house dumped the liquor but the police got the coloring and the man later paid for his action.

The persons arrested on charges of operating a disorderly house gave their names as follows: Anna Bishara, West Reynolds street; Jennie Isaacs, West Reynolds street, and Charles Bishara, West Reynolds street.

Dock Saad, who was at the Anna Bishara premises, was charged with interfering with an officer because he allegedly dumped the liquor.

The three alleged proprietors were fined $100 and costs each. Saad was fined $50, in default of which he was committed to the county jail for 90 days.

Timber Dam Is Swept Away By Raging Waters

Dam Near Selinsgrove, Pa., Carried Away By Flood Waters—No One Drowned

MANY BRIDGES ARE WASHED OUT

Traffic Over Susquehanna Trail Resumed Today—Waters Recede

(International News Service) SELINSGROVE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Swollen far above normal levels by heavy rainfall, roaring flood waters of Middle creek early today swept away a timber dam of the Pennsylvania Power & Light company, two miles south of here, carried away several bridges and wrecked about 50 summer cottages along the banks of the stream.

A crew of the power company battling to repair loose timbers in the dam narrowly escaped. The men swam to shore in the heavy current as the dam gave away. Their motor truck was swept a quarter of a mile downstream and badly damaged.

Service Unaffected.

Most of the residents of cottages along the creek abandoned their dwellings at the waters rose. The last to leave were Dr. and Mrs. John A. Summers, who were rescued in a rowboat.

Service was not affected by the washing away of the dam, which supplied power to a reserve hydroelectric plant. Acquired by the power and light company in a merger with the old Northumberland County Gas & Electric company, the dam was 200 feet across at its crest and backed up the water for almost a mile upstream.

Waters in the creek rose with tre-

Bridges Carried Away.

Raging downstream, the flood waters carried away an iron highway bridge a half mile north of the dam and a one-man covered foot bridge a quarter of a mile south.

Debris wrecked cottages and motor boats were carried along by the flood waters together with timbers from the collapsed dam.

The eastern section of Middlebury, the county seat, including several mills, was inundated. In Selinsgrove a silk mill and a tool mill were flooded to a depth of about one foot.

Numerous small bridges over Middle creek and Penn's creek were swept away. The two creeks join about two miles south of here and a mile farther away flow into the Susquehanna as Penn's creek.

Traffic over the Susquehanna Trail which parallels the creeks was suspended during the night when the road became impassable but was resumed this morning.

Court Discharges Habeas Corpus Writ In Case Of Blondo

During the latter part of last week Carl Blondo, who was arrested by the city police on suspicion, secured a writ of habeas corpus against Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Chief of Police John F. This morning Mayor Mayne explained to the court that soon after his arrest Blondo had been turned over to state police, who stated that he was wanted in New Brighton. He was not, therefore, in the city jail at the time the writ was taken out. Judge Chambers discharged the writ.

Astor And His Bride Quarrel

John Jacob Astor, III, Goes One Way And Ellen Tuck French Astor Goes Another

ARGUMENT OCCURS AT PROVIDENCE, R. I.

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—John Jacob Astor, III, and his young bride of a few weeks, the former Ellen Tuck French, had a quarrel in Newport.

That much appeared certain to-day.

But whether the quarrel was just an unimportant little family tiff that had the misfortune to find its way to the front pages, or whether it was of more serious proportions remained a disputed point.

Mrs. French herself was questioned when she arrived at the Grand Central station from Newport.

"A quarrel? Absolutely ridiculous," she said.

Young Astor, reached by telephone at his Newport home, declined either to confirm or deny that he had quarreled publicly with his wife.

Both Exalted.

The squabble is reported to have taken place just outside the Biltmore hotel in Providence.

Witnesses said the couple emerged from the hotel arguing and that both were considerably excited.

Young Astor is said to have shaken his head negatively and to have exclaimed, "No, I won't do it."

At the height of the tiff, Mrs. Astor, it was said, got into a waiting automobile and was driven to the railroad station where she and her sister boarded a train for New York.

Young Astor meanwhile walked back to the hotel.

Timber Dam Is Swept Away By Raging Waters

Dam Near Selinsgrove, Pa., Carried Away By Flood Waters—No One Drowned

MANY BRIDGES ARE WASHED OUT

Traffic Over Susquehanna Trail Resumed Today—Waters Recede

(International News Service)

SELINGROVE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Swollen far above normal levels by heavy rainfall, roaring flood waters of Middle creek early today swept away a timber dam of the Pennsylvania Power & Light company, two miles south of here, carried away several bridges and wrecked about 50 summer cottages along the banks of the stream.

A crew of the power company battling to repair loose timbers in the dam narrowly escaped. The men swam to shore in the heavy current as the dam gave away. Their motor truck was swept a quarter of a mile downstream and badly damaged.

Service Unaffected.

Most of the residents of cottages along the creek abandoned their dwellings as the waters rose. The last to leave were Dr. and Mrs. John A. Summers, who were rescued in a rowboat.

Service was not affected by the washing away of the dam which supplied power to a reserve hydroelectric plant. Acquired by the power and light company in a merger with the old Northumberland County Gas & Electric company, the dam was 200 feet across at its crest and backed up the water for almost a mile upstream.

Waters in the creek rose with trimendous force to as much as 15 feet above normal in some places.

Bridge Carried Away.

Raging downstream, the flood waters carried away an iron highway bridge a half mile north of the dam and a one-man covered foot bridge a quarter of a mile south.

Debris wrecked cottages and motor boats were carried along by the flood waters together with timbers from the collapsed dam.

The eastern section of Middleburg, the county seat, including several mills, was inundated. In Selinsgrove a silk mill and a tool mill were flooded to a depth of about one foot.

Numerous small bridges over Middle creek and Penn's creek were swept away. The two creeks join about two miles south of here and a mile farther away flow into the Susquehanna as Penn's creek.

Traffic over the Susquehanna Trail which parallels the creeks was suspended during the night when the road became impassable but was resumed this morning.

Court Discharges Habeas Corpus Writ In Case Of Blondo

During the latter part of last week Carl Blondo, who was arrested by the city police on suspicion, secured a writ of habeas corpus against Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Chief of Police John F. This morning Mayor Mayne explained to the court that soon after his arrest Blondo had been turned over to state police, who stated that he was wanted in New Brighton.

He was not, therefore, in the city jail at the time the writ was taken out. Judge Chambers discharged the writ.

"I suffered a long time from stomach trouble before I heard about Vendol, and I wish I had known of this splendid medicine before as it has surely given me grand relief," said Mrs. M. J. Jones residing on route 6, New Castle.

"After every meal I'd feel terribly distressed with gas forming which pressed against my heart causing shortness of breath. Most any kind of food caused this pressure and also caused a heavy, choking feeling.

"I often felt dizzy and little spots danced before my eyes. I was constipated all the time and had to take salts or castor oil to get relief. I would tire out easily and it didn't take much to depress or play me out.

"I was attracted to Vendol by what so many people living here at home stated in the newspaper that this medicine had done for them, suffering from the same troubles I was.

"I am willing to give this public recommendation for Vendol after taking it but a short time. It has done me worlds of good

Leaders Named For Advanced Gifts Drive Of Community Chest

THOS. H. HARTMAN

Thomas H. Hartman, president of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, has accepted the chairmanship, together with Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson as vice chairman, of the advanced gifts division in the upcoming 11th annual appeal of the eight affiliated agencies in the New Castle Community Chest. Campaign General Chairman Walter W.

"This dual leadership of Mr. Hartman and Mrs. Johnson," said Mr. Brahm, "leaves little to be desired and already under Chairman Hartman's name call has gone out to about 35 of our more prominent citizens to be associated with them as members of the advanced gift division. It will be recalled," continued Chairman Brahm, "that the advanced gift division will solicit about 200 of the larger corporations, firms, estates and more substantial individuals for subscriptions commensurate with their investments or volume of business done in New Castle."

"This division," concluded the campaign leader, "will be responsible for the securing from this powerful minority group at least 55% of the 1934-5 goal which is yet to be announced. In over 200 of the 420 successful Community Chest cities in the United States, cities comparable with New Castle in population, wealth and industrial diversification, all approximate, from their more substantial citizens, at least 55% or on their respective Community Chest goals."

Rally on Wednesday Chairman Hartman of the advanced gifts division announced that he was mobilizing his advanced gifts division at a luncheon meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 19, at which time his division members will counsel regarding the task that is before them and lay plans for their advanced solicitation which will start immediately after that date.

Mr. Hartman, in speaking of the work of the eight affiliated agencies in the Chest, said that on reviewing a tabulation of their many thousand acts of human kindness over the past 12 months he was astounded at the contribution they are making toward the social recovery of the community. This great care, cure and prevention work must go on, he continued, and a subscription to the Community Chest in the oncoming campaign, aside from any heart interest or humanitarian reasons, can be rightly considered as an investment in New Castle's welfare—socially and economically.

A statistical folder of facts which could be rightly called, "It's not Charity Alone, but Good Business," will be sent to subscribers of last year, graphically showing them what their money bought—that while the recipients were blessed by it, they, too, the donors, received big social dividends.

Edwards was expected to be called for trial either the week of September 24 or October 2.

The flowers that will adorn the pulpit during Yom Kippur have been offered by Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, in loving memory of all their dear ones who have passed to the Realm of Life Everlasting.

The Day Of Atonement

The Day of Atonement or "Yom Kippur," the tenth day of the month of Tishri, begins at sunset Tuesday, September 18 and ends at sunset Wednesday, September 19.

The thought underlying the day is expressed in the scriptural words: "On this day He will forgive for you, to purify you from your sins." It is a day of reconciliation of man with his fellow-man and with God, and comes as a climax to the holiday season which began Sunday evening, September 9 with the New Year's day and continued through the ten days of penitence.

The Day is the most solemn of all the days in the Jewish calendar. It is passed in fasting and prayer. The whole day is spent in the synagogue. In the evening there is the service which commences with the chanting of the well-known Kol Nidre prayer. The day proper has four services. Of these the Mussaf or afternoon service contains a description of the abovementioned rites as practiced in the ancient days in the Temple at Jerusalem; and the closing service is understood to be held at the time when traditionally decision is finally made as to man's fate, and thus these prayers instead of having the usual phrase, "Inscribe us in the book of life," use the expression: "Seal us in the book of life."

According to Jewish tradition expressed in an ancient lawbook, the Day of Atonement, when spent in praying and repenting, will bring pardon for sins between man and God; but as for the sins committed by man against his fellow-man, the Day cannot bring pardon until he has become reconciled with his fellow-man. This idea is the basis of the effort always made before the Day of Atonement to bring peace between members of a family or such friends who have become estranged and are on unfriendly terms with one another; and in this way, the Day achieves its purpose to put the worshipper at peace not only with his Maker, but also with his fellow-man.

A feature of Yom Kippur is the Memorial Service. Men and women think of their dear departed and of the great and good who served mankind. A loving fervor animates these prayers by which the memory of the departed is honored, and their ideals are preserved.

Frank R. McGuigan and John R. Phillips conferred with Edwards on trial for first degree murder for the "American Tragedy" slaying of his neighborhood sweetheart, Freda McKechnie, 26, was expected to be fixed today by District Attorney Thomas Lewis.

Defense attorneys Frank R. McGuigan and John R. Phillips conferred with Edwards at the county jail Saturday but continued to shroud their plans to save him from a murder conviction in secrecy.

Reports persisted nevertheless, that the defense plans to repudiate three signed statements which police said they had obtained from Edwards and in which they quoted the young mining engineer as admitting he killed Freda, an expectant mother, with a blackjack in order to continue a college romance with Miss Margaret Crain, a music teacher, of Eliz Aurora, N. Y.

Edwards was expected to be called for trial either the week of September 24 or October 2.

Pentecost Pastor Gives Resignation

The Rev. John Kellner Will Return To Former Pastorate
at Binghamton, N. Y.

After four years as pastor of the First Pentecostal church of this city the Rev. John Kellner has presented his resignation to the board of directors and congregation of the church. The resignation will take effect September 30, and although the board of directors has not yet accepted the resignation, they have granted Rev. Kellner a leave of absence.

Sunday morning the pastor told his people that he really felt that there was a call from the Lord for him to return to his former pastorate as they have been without a leader for some time, and have called him back. It is with regret that he has given his resignation and it was received with more regret on the part of the congregation, who feel that the work of the pastor and his wife, Mrs. Olive Kellner, have done a great spiritual work here.

During the pastorate of Rev. Kellner, the congregation bought and remodeled the old Epworth Methodist church and at the time of moving into the church the average attendance was about 200 and at the present time the congregation average between 500 and 700, the church having been filled to capacity at the service Sunday evening, and this is true of practically every Sunday.

Notable in the congregations is the large number of young people who attend, as both the Rev. and Mrs. Kellner are especially interested in the work among the young people and have built up this part of the congregation greatly.

The Kellners have moved their household effects to Binghamton, and will leave the latter part of the month.

The original significance of the nautical term ahoy, meaning hail, is said to have been "stop" and it still partakes of that meaning in a modified sense.

Shields Used By National Guards

Guardsmen Battle Strikers By Using Steel Shields And Helmets

(International News Service)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 17.—National Guardsmen who have been repelling textile mill strikers with tear gas and other up-to-date devices of warfare went back 20 centuries today to improve their equipment.

In expectation of serious rioting as mills reopened, troops were provided with metal shields on the style worn by Caesar's Legions. By slipping their arms through two loops, exactly as the old Romans used to do, they protected their bodies from rocks and other missiles while their heads were covered with the steel helmets.

Motorcycle 'Cop' Returns To Duty

Motorcycle Patrolman Ray Shewalter today resumed his police duties after being off duty for some time. He had been ill with the flu. When he returned to work today he mounted the new motorcycle which was purchased recently by Police Chief Haven. Shewalter said the motorcycle, with sidecar attached, operated splendidly.

gathering that there is objection to the Jews as a race because of their place in the van of all revolutionary movements."

That does not seem to have been in the revolutions with which we are most familiar. Cromwell was no Jew.

Camille Desmoulins, Mirabeau, Danton, Robespierre, Marat, who started and led the French revolution, were not Jews. Mussolini and Kemal Pasha, leaders of successful revolutions in Italy and Turkey, are not Jews. Lenin and Stalin of Russia, are not Jews. The only important Jew in the Bolshevik revolution, Trotsky, was expelled from Russia.

GEORGE BLUMENTHAL, very able, feels as you might if you had seen a hundred million shrink to sixty millions or less. Mr. Blumenthal, quite bluntly, says he doesn't believe people in Washington really know "where they are going."

That does not include President Roosevelt, who always knows where he is going.

Yesterday he was going to the international yacht race on Vincent Astor's yacht Nourmahal. More than one hundred million Americans will be glad to know that the President looked extremely well, and cheerful as he stood at the rail of Nourmahal with his pretty grandchildren, "Sister" and "Buzzie" Dall, beside him.

Happy the man who can carry a big load, without staggering or complaining.

WHEN THIS was written the yacht race had been called off with the American boat well in the lead, only half mile from the finish line. You read the result today and it will mean as little as a trotting horse race. Trotting horses went out with the cheap automobile, sailing boats went out with the steamship and the "put-put" any one of the thousand little motorboats could run circles around the two yachts with all sails spread.

Slightly amusing are present British suspicions in connection with the yacht race. They are also old. Some British "sportsmen" sent here to write, think the American yacht has violated the rules.

When the original old American sailing boat crossed the Atlantic to beat the British eighty-odd years ago, and did it with great ease, the same "good British sportsmen" suspected something "unsportsmanlike" about the American boat, perhaps some kind of propelling machinery hidden below the waterline. What it really was hidden away was the work of better men building the boat and better men running it.

MISUNDERSTANDING arises between General Johnson of NRA and Matthew Woll, American Federation of Labor vice president. General Johnson says textile workers struck in violation of their pledged word and adds:

"If all agreements or organized labor are worth no more than this one, then that institution is not such a responsible instrumentality as can make contracts on which this country can rely."

Blunt General Johnson has many things to learn about making contracts.

MR. WOLL, very able, a highly respected labor leader, informs General Johnson that "as NRA administrator" his attack on organized labor is unbecoming. He adds: "The labor movement will go on," it will of course, more energetic and powerful than ever, since the present administration is a union labor administration.

YOU CAN'T SEE an electron, one of the units of electric power that make up the atom and all matter in the universe. You couldn't feel or find a million electrons, lodged in the corner of your eye.

But learned German, Dr. Ruska, puts electrons to work according to the German publication "Zeitschrift für Physik." Dr. Ruska using electrons in place of light rays in a new microscope, multiplies the apparent size of objects by 10,000. The ordinary maximum is 3,500. The electron microscope may enable human eyes to see and study even microbes that pass through a porcelain filter. It should, theoretically, multiply one thousand times more efficiently than the old fashioned microscope using light, which would mean magnifying by 3,000,000.

SCIENCE PROGRESSES, while detectives kill their bandits and political dictators. The other scientific news tells you that Professor de Haas and Dr. Wiersma, Dutch scientists at the University of Leyden; in a new machine have come within three one-hundredths of a degree of "absolute zero," a condition in which there exists absolutely no heat. There is heat at fifty and one hundred degrees below zero and lower. But when you get down to four hundred and fifty nine and six-tenths degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, all heat is gone and you have absolute zero. The Dutch scientists have come within three-one hundredths of a degree of that absolute zero.

PROFESSOR GIAUQUE, of the University of California, had previously reached four hundred and fifty nine and one-tenth below zero. Science has never reached absolute zero, or created an absolute vacuum; but keeps on trying. What happens at absolute zero? Does motion cease within the atom? That absolute zero exists a few miles above our heads, outside of our atmosphere. If a passing comet, or sun passing too near, should draw away our atmosphere, we should all be frozen solid instantaneously.

SPEAKING at the Jewish philosophical convention in Connecticut, the Rev. Father J. F. X. Murphy, speaking of the industry and success, that accounts for much anti-Semitism, said at Fordham University, they have a saying that the Jewish students work hard—and the Christians work hard! It would be a good idea to give better marks to Christian boys, and we are going to—if they earn them.

SENATE PROBERS INVESTIGATE SALES OF PLANES

South American Dealings Aired

Charge Plane Manufacturers Pitted One Country Against Other

SENATOR NYE SAYS PROBE ONLY BEGUN

By EUGENE J. CADOU
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—American airplane manufacturers pitted one South American country against another to sell their planes, according to investigators for the Senate Munitions committee.

The committee today examined Donald L. Brown, president of the United Aircraft and Transport corporation and the Pratt-Whitney company, and C. W. Deeds, treasurer of the companies.

Shady Dealings Charged

International intrigue, payment of irregular commissions and other "shady" dealings were charged by the investigators against the airplane companies.

Later this week the committee will reveal how the insidious poison gas is sold to any nation which shows signs of being at odds with another commonwealth. James W. Young, president, and Frank Sheridan Jones, South American agent for the Federal Laboratories company of Pittsburgh, Pa., will be questioned about the lethal gas sales.

DuPont To Come Back
Four DuPont relatives, kings of the American explosive industry, will not appear again this week, but will be asked to return when the committee resumes session after the November election.

Curtiss-Wright Export corporation officials, who directed a vigorous world-wide airplane sales campaign, have charged that the United Aircraft was "dirty."

Senator Nye (R.) of North Dakota, committee chairman, has announced the committee will terminate its preliminary sessions at the end of this week, but added that the committee "merely has scratched the surface."

WHEN THIS was written the yacht race had been called off with the American boat well in the lead, only half mile from the finish line.

You read the result today and it will mean as little as a trotting horse race. Trotting horses went out with the cheap automobile, sailing boats went out with the steamship and the "put-put" any one of the thousand little motorboats could run circles around the two yachts with all sails spread.

Slightly amusing are present British suspicions in connection with the yacht race. They are also old. Some British "sportsmen" sent here to write, think the American yacht has violated the rules.

When the original old American sailing boat crossed the Atlantic to beat the British eighty-odd years ago, and did it with great ease, the same "good British sportsmen" suspected something "unsportsmanlike" about the American boat, perhaps some kind of propelling machinery hidden below the waterline. What it really was hidden away was the work of better men building the boat and better men running it.

Trots, Paces, Running Races Scheduled Here

Race Program At Fair Track To Be Featured By 2-Year-Old Paces

RACING STARTS AT 1 P. M. WEDNESDAY

Patrons of harness and running races should have their wants fully filled when a two days program racing gets under way at the New Castle Fair track this week.

The first day's racing will start at one p.m. Wednesday and the second and last day's racing will be held Thursday.

One of the features of the calendar is that there will be races each day between two year old pacers. There has never been a pace for two year olds and it naturally it will afford some thrills.

A. C. Shoaf, director in charge of the racing, in discussing the coming calendar said there will be from four to five score horses at the track and there has been no difficulty obtaining some of the classiest trotters and pacers now coveting around the ovals.

On Wednesday and Thursday the pace between the two year olds will not be the only feature, Shoaf having made arrangements to stage three running races each day. Last season the runners went over big and knowing that there is a keen liking for the runners here, Shoaf booked three events for each day.

Here's the card for Wednesday: 2:15 pace; 2:25 trot and 2 year old pace and three running races. The same program will be carried out Thursday excepting there'll be different entries.

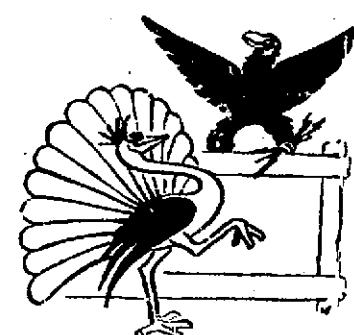

The races will be started by Harry Goll and the judges will be Harry Alexander, Charles Byers and William Hartwell. Among the timers will be John Brinton.

The pace record is 2:06.3. The two year olds entered here will beat the mark of 2:10, according to Shoaf who is looking forward to an excited crowd at the track.

New Castle To Play Ellwood Friday Night

Second Game For New Castle High Team Will Find Ellwood As Opponents

New Castle high school football team will play the second game on the 1934 program Friday night at Taggart stadium with Ellwood City high as the opponents. The game will start at eight o'clock, E. S. T.

The New Castle team defeated Bradock high, 13 to 0, in the opening game here last Friday night, and Ellwood City upset Union high, 18 to 6, at Ellwood City Saturday afternoon.

Coaches Phil Bridenbaugh and "Gandy" Benedict will start today to smooth out the rough spots that occurred in the Bradock and Union games.

Ellwood Looks Good

Ellwood City has a few scores to settle with the "Red Hurricane" for defeats in the past few years and it is believed that the Ellwoodians will give New Castle a tough battle this year. Ellwood looked very good Saturday in taking the measure of Union high.

With the ineligibility of Howley and James, Coach Bridenbaugh will have to use the material on hand, and that means a lot of hard work this week to give the boys a little more experience.

TITAN STARTING ELEVEN IS NOT NAMED AS YET

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 17.—Football spirit is in the air at Westminster College as the student body looks forward to the opening game of the year here on Saturday afternoon. Slippery Rock State Teachers College, a neighbor institution, will journey here for the contest.

The Titans under coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane have been drilling since September 4. Not until September 11, however, was scrimage possible, and minor injuries during the first part of last week kept the new mentors from scrimmaging as much as they had planned.

Saturday afternoon, however, saw a full scrimmage, with all details of an actual game followed.

Coach Bill Gilbane will not be ready to announce his starting line-up until Thursday of Friday of this week. Drills will be strenuous today and tomorrow, and as the practice sessions taper down and a report from Trainer Jack Huime shows the condition of the men, Gilbane will be ready to select the starting eleven.

PIRATE GRIDDERS TOPPED BY BOSTON BY SCORE 7 TO 0

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—A highly cheerful Boston pro football eleven entrained for the east today, following its 7-0 victory over Coach Lulu DiMelo's Pittsburgh Pirates.

No changes were contemplated in the Pirate line-up, however, as the locals settled down for their next battle after what they considered a mere victory yesterday.

More than 17,000 fans watched a trick passing. Pirates eleven surge 73 yards to the Braves five-yard line just after the kickoff, only to stop dead in its tracks.

Featuring Cliff Battles, Boston immediately staged a comeback which ended with Charlie Malone, 200-pound end, plunging two yards for the only score in the game early in the third quarter, after snagging a long heave from Steve Hokum.

The Pirates outgained the Braves five to one as Warren Heller shot the ball around for all distances and Sh Zarinelli held his own in a punting duel with Battles.

Approximately 10,000 calls a day are received at the terminal's information bureau.

Stanford University Golfer Defeats Goldman 8 And 7

Saturday

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 17.—Lawson Little, the 24-year old Stanford University golfer, holder of the British amateur championship, added the American National Amateur title to his list Saturday afternoon at the beautiful Brookline course by defeating Dave Goldman of Dallas, Texas, 8 and 7, in a brilliant display of golf.

Little was almost as sensational in winning the American crown as he was in taking the measure of James Wallace in the finals of the British tournament when he shot sub-par golf for three rounds.

Saturday for the first 18 holes Little blazed away at par and started it with a 69 card. For the first nine of the afternoon round Little blazed out a 34. The match ended on the eleventh green of the afternoon round. Goldman played consistently well, but could not match the phenomenal shots that the coast golfer had in his bag.

Karl Seifert, Les Wilkins, Vin Sizles and Verne Baxter, are all fighting for the right end job. Avril Daniell and Pete Avizienis, left tackles, and Bob McClure, quarterback stand a show in replacing the regulars now slated to start the opening game.

SAKS TEAM TO DINE

"Sak" Levin, sponsor of the Saks softball team, will be host tonight to the members of the team at a dinner at a south side restaurant. The dinner will start at 7 o'clock. There will be several invited guests.

Members of the committees which will be in charge of the Field day of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association, October 6 at the New Castle Fair grounds are arranging events for the bird dogs, springer spaniels, coon dogs, and rabbit dogs. There will be rifle and pistol shoots and among them being exhibitions of trick shooting. Archery will be demonstrated.

The team, according to Fredericks, is in need of better interplay and a substitute for either Hostnick or Paniella in case of need. Tom Shocik will be used for relief at either of the tackle berths it is believed.

Race Program At Fair Track To Be Featured By 2-Year-Old Paces

RACING STARTS AT 1 P. M. WEDNESDAY

Patrons of harness and running races should have their wants fully filled when a two days program racing gets under way at the New Castle Fair track, this week.

The first day's racing will start at one p. m. Wednesday and the second and last day's racing will be held Thursday.

One of the features of the calendar is that there will be races each day between two year old pacers. There has never been a pace for two year olds here and naturally it will afford some thrills.

A. Shoaf, director in charge of the racing, in discussing the coming calendar said there will be from four to five score horses at the track and there has been no difficulty obtaining some of the classiest trotters and pacers now favoring around the ovals.

On Wednesday and Thursday the pace between the two year olds will not be the only feature, Shoaf having made arrangements to stage three running races each day. Last season the runners went over big and knowing that there is a keen liking for the runners here, Shoaf booked three events for each day.

Here's the card for Wednesday: 2:15 pace; 2:25 trot and 2 year old pace and three running races. The same program will be carried out Thursday excepting there'll be different entries.

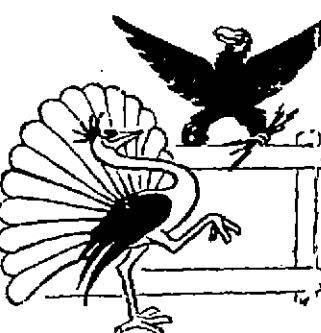

The races will be started by Harry Goll and the judges will be Harry Alexander, Charles Byers and William Hartwell. Among the timers will be John Brinton.

The pace track record is 2:06%. The two year olds entered here will beat the mark of 2:10, according to Shoaf who is looking forward to an excellent crowd at the track.

New Castle To Play Ellwood Friday Night

Second Game For New Castle High Team Will Find Ellwood As Opponents

New Castle high school football team will play the second game on the 1934 program Friday night at Taggart stadium with Ellwood City high as the opponents. The game will start at eight o'clock, E. S. T.

The New Castle team defeated Braddock high, 13 to 0, in the opening game here last Friday night, and Ellwood City upset Union high, 18 to 6, at Ellwood City Saturday afternoon.

Coaches Phil Bridenbaugh and "Gandy" Benedict will start today to smooth out the rough spots that occurred in the Braddock and Union games.

Pirate Gridders Topped By Boston By Score 7 To 0

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—A highly cheerful Boston pro football eleven entrained for the east today, following its 7-0 victory over Coach Lubly Dimeolo's Pittsburgh Pirates.

No changes were contemplated in the Pirate line-up, however, as the locals settled down for their next battle after what they considered a moral victory yesterday.

More than 17,000 fans watched a tricky passing Pirate eleven surge 73 yards to the Braves five-yard line just after the kickoff, only to stop dead in its tracks.

Featuring Cliff Battles, Boston immediately staged a comeback which ended with Charlie Malone, 200-pound end, plunging two yards for the only score of the game early in the third quarter, after snagging a long heave from Steve Hokul.

The Pirates outgained the Braves five to one as Warren Heller shot the ball around for all distances and Sul Zantinelli held his own in a punting duel with Battles.

Lead Of Giants Cut To Three

Dean Brothers Win

TIGERS ADVANCE, YANKEES LOSE

By GENE LAWRENCE
International News Service Sports
Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The New York Giants, in spite of the fact that their lead in the National league race has been cut to 3½ games, probably will go on to win the pennant again, but in the collective mind of the largest crowd ever to jam its way into the Polo Grounds—82,673, no less—the remains today the strong suspicion that the best club in baseball is the Dean family, Dizzy and Paul.

In winning both ends of a double header from the world's champions, 5-3 and 3-1, yesterday, the two aces of the St. Louis Cardinals' mound staff, proved their ability to win under any and all conditions.

Cards Win Two

Dizzy Dean worked the first game and although he was removed for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning, he was superb during the time he remained on the mound. It was Diz's 26th victory of the fading season.

In the nightcap, the desperate Giants sent their ace of aces, Carl Hubbell, to the mound against the younger of the Dean brothers. Jimmy Collins' 33rd homer of the year tied the score in the seventh and the Cards went on to win in the darkness of the eleventh inning on a homer by Martin, a single by Rothrock, Frisch's sacrifice and Medwick's one hit.

The hope of the Chicago Cubs that they might catch either the Cardinals or the Giants received a death blow when Charley Grimm's men dropped a pair of games to the Brooklyn Dodgers, 11-6 and 5-4.

Up in Boston the lowly Reds sprung a surprise by winning twice from the Braves, 2-1 and 5-2.

The Pirates and Phillies were rained out.

Tigers Advance

In the American league the New York Yankees, on the eve of their final series with the Detroit Tigers, lost a 5-2 decision to Mel Harder and the Cleveland Indians and, as a result, are no less than 5½ games behind the rampaging Bengals. Harder's victory virtually clinched the pennant for the Tigers, who defeated the Washington Senators, 2-1.

The Philadelphia Athletics took both ends of a bargain day bill from the St. Louis Browns, 2-1 and 2-0. Encouraged by George Earnshaw's two-hit pitching in the first game for a 2-1 victory, the Chicago White Sox sank the Boston Red Sox under a heavy barrage of hitting in the last half of a double-header, 12-10.

No Winner In Yacht Race As Time Expires

Rainbow Finishes First In
Race Saturday, But Con-

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 17.—Out there on the bounding blue bosom of the sound where for centuries men have gone down to the sea and women have wept, the crews of the Rainbow, representing the United States, and the Endeavor of England, will try again this morning to aff those fragile lily cups through the sea for 30 miles to a definite decision in the race for the America's cup. On Saturday they tried and failed. When the time limit of 5½ hours had expired, the Rainbow had been able to beat the Endeavor.

But it couldn't beat its own futility in light airs. It still was a half mile out of the course.

No Contest

So a lot of very prominent people, including the president of the United States, steamed back to port, sadly realizing, with the "no contest" announcement that, after all, there is no contest like none at all.

Yet the 83 years of its history has so dramatized the event that not only the president but also a great financier, J. P. Morgan; a great industrialist, Edsel Ford; two great railroad men like Frederick H. Prince and Arthur Curtis James, and scores of distinguished others, have gone completely maritime and will be out there, bobbing about with the estimated gallery of 50,000 originally.

Nonetheless this gay dog of a seaport town was an impressive show this morning with its narrow, winding, side hill streets a bustle with festive, roistering crowds and the skyline of the harbor etched with the white, shining hulls of a thousand ships, waiting for the word to go.

The race was to be fifteen miles each to windward and leeward, with the triangular course to be followed on alternate days. In other words, Saturday's contest was just as though it never had been. It was to be played all over again, with the cup to go to the yacht winning the first four in seven races.

RED GRANGE

Many All-American football players have had their exploits on the gridiron hailed from coast to coast but none have outdone Harold (Red) Grange, former Illinois backfield ace. Harper, Caridea, Cagle, Friedman, Welsh and many others were football stars extraordinary but none can boast of the record set by the Galloping Ghost.

During his three years on the Orange and Blue varsity, Red made a total of 31 touchdowns gained 3,637 yards and completed 42 passes for 643 yards. He took part in 938 minutes of collegiate football which means that he averaged a touchdown every 30 minutes of play.

The high spot in Grange's career came in the 1924 Michigan game. On the opening kickoff Red took the ball and raced 95 yards for a touchdown. In the space of 12 minutes he had accounted for four touchdowns against the Wolverines.

He was later withdrawn from the game but on returning in the third period he scored his fifth and final touchdown of the afternoon. Then he threw a forward pass good for another, which made Red a principal in all 35 points scored by Illinois.

Grange was by no means an in-and-out player. His performance in the Michigan game was almost duplicated every time Coach Zuppke's boys played. In only two games did he fail to cover his customary yardage and both of these occurred in 1925.

In the opening game of that season, against Nebraska, Red was limited to 49 yards and one successful forward pass for 18 yards. Later in the season against Chicago, Grange could make only 51 yards although he played the entire game.

However, 1925 also saw another great triumph for the Wheaton ice carver. In the Pennsylvania game at Philadelphia, Grange demonstrated that he was at his best when the odds were the greatest. Penn had a strong team and was the pre-game favorite. Illinois won, nevertheless, 24 to 2, due to Red's three touchdowns and a forward pass good for 13 yards.

Red was an outstanding football player before he entered Illinois and they say he has become even better since turning professional. In high school he kicked 30 consecutive points after touchdown and in one game recorded nine field goals. He would have been a good collegiate kicker too except for the fact that Zuppke had in Earl Britton one of the greatest punters and place kickers in modern football.

There is no doubt that Grange has been the "Babe Ruth" of professional football. The salary game took a decided swing upward when the Illinois fans graduated with Chicago. Football fans who never before noticed the pro game followed Red's activity in the big leagues.

Grange's playing days are now drawing to a close; this season, probably, will be his last. It is a strange coincidence that Babe Ruth and Red will wind up their careers together. Let us hope that neither will be forgotten by the respective sports.

Red is still a valuable ball player for the Chicago Bears, but he is far from being the swerving streak he formerly was. His ability now is due to his wide experience and knowledge which makes him valuable on the defense and as a forward passer. His head, and not his legs, now is the cause of his success.

Just as Ruth will seek a baseball job as manager, Grange will likely turn to the coaching profession for his future football activity. Baseball owes Ruth a job and, I believe it just as fitting that football, particularly the professional game, should see that Red has a place in the future plans. The professional sport has advanced far and it was Grange who gave the push which popularized the money game.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Penn State's varsity seemed tentatively chosen today, three weeks before its opening football encounter with Lebanon Valley.

Captain Merrill Morrison and Harry Sigel, veteran halfbacks, apparently have their posts reserved while Mikelson and O'Hara are still scrapping for the quarterback berth.

Bill Cooper, Tom Silvano, Roy Schuyler and Lou Kreitzman, guards; Buck McKee and Art Frey, ends, and Weber and Wismer, tackles, are slated for action in the Lebanon tilt.

DeHart A. C. To Have Meeting

DeHart A. C. colored football team will have an important meeting tonight after the practice session at 4:30 o'clock. Walter Smith, former New Castle high star, has been added to the coaching staff and expects to turn out another championship team.

The following new players have been signed up by the DeHart A. C., all of them having had experience with the New Castle high school football team: Fredly Lane, Charles McHenry, John Young, Carl McClelland and Robert Engs. Silas Pryor of Detroit has also been added to the DeHart roster.

Probe Death Of Army Aviator In Cleveland Crash

Lieut. Henry S. Bear, 30, Dies As Plane Plunges To Earth And Burns

Four Passengers Quit Plane
Prior To Crash Lived At Carlisle, Pa.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 17.—An investigation was to be launched here today into the crash of an army bombardment plane at the Cleveland Municipal airport, in which Lieut. Henry S. Bear, 30, of the Army Air Corps base at Langley Field, Va., plunged to a fiery death.

A large crowd of Sunday airport visitors witnessed the crash of the huge twin-motored plane.

Visited Brother.

Fire squads, carrying chemical extinguishers, dashed across the field from every hangar, but the terrific heat from the flaming ship prevented them from getting close enough to the mass of wreckage to either quench the flames or to retrieve the pilot's body.

The crash occurred after Lieut. Bear had stopped at the airport to visit his brother.

A few seconds after he took off, the pilot suddenly swerved the plane, either in a banking turn or to make a forced landing because of engine trouble. As the plane completed the turn, its left wing snagged toward the ground, shattering the wood and canvas structure of the wing. The left outboard motor dug into the earth and the flames broke out at the contact.

Lieut. Bear was a reserve officer on active duty with the 49th squadron of the second bombardment group at Langley field. He left the base Saturday with four passengers on a navigation flight for practice in cross-country work and the survey of small landing fields between Washington and Cleveland.

Was Good Flyer.

The passengers were a cadet flyer named Haggis, who left the ship at Frederick, Md.; another Ensign Hardy of the navy who disembarked at Waynesboro, Pa.; Private John Raden and other private named Moncrief who came here to visit relatives.

Lieut. Bear made his home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bear at Carlisle, Pa. He was a graduate of Gettysburg college, Gettysburg, Pa., and had an electrical engineering degree. He enlisted in the army flying service in 1931 and finished his training at Kelley field, Texas. He was assigned to Langley field in 1933.

Grange's playing days are now drawing to a close; this season, probably, will be his last. It is a strange coincidence that Babe Ruth and Red will wind up their careers together. Let us hope that neither will be forgotten by the respective sports.

Robert L. Meermans, general secretary of the New Castle Young Men's Christian Association, submitted his resignation today as manager of the Federal-Social Employment Bureau here, a post which he has held since the Y and state opened a cooperative employment office here 10 years ago.

He sent his resignation to Director A. W. Motley of the state's bureau of employment at Harrisburg. It was accepted.

Mr. Meermans gave as his reason for resigning the steady expansion of Y. M. C. A. work which necessitates the greater part of his time. He has given service to the bureau while it was located in the Y and since it moved into its new location in the Johnson building about a year ago.

No successor to Mr. Meermans was named today. It is expected that one will be named by October 1 when Mr. Meermans' resignation becomes effective.

With a great interest in employment work, Mr. Meermans was instrumental in having a cooperative branch launched here a decade ago and guided its gradual development to an office which handles the bulk of employment matters for the Lawrence county district and districts outside as well. He has won the personal praise of his chief, Mr. Motley, at various times when the office burdens were heaviest.

The scope of the bureau here has spread considerably since the federal government joined the state government in the operation of it. The state operated it alone when it first opened.

Cards Defeat Giants Twice

Lead Of Giants Cut To Three

TIGERS ADVANCE, YANKEES LOSE

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The New York Giants, in spite of the fact that their lead in the National league race has been cut to 3½ games, probably will go on to win the pennant again, but in the collective mind of the largest crowd ever to jam its way into the Polo Grounds—62,573, no less—they remain today the strong suspicion that the best club in baseball is the Dean family, Dizzy and Paul.

In winning both ends of a double header from the world's champions, 5-3 and 3-1, yesterday, the two aces of the St. Louis Cardinals' mound staff, proved their ability to win under any and all conditions.

Cards Win Two

Dizzy Dean worked the first game and although he was removed for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning, he was superb during the time he was remained on the mound. It was Diz's 26th victory of the fading season.

In the nightcap, the desperate Giants sent their ace of aces, Carl Hubbell, to the mound against the younger of the Dean brothers, Jimmy Collins' 33rd Homer of the year came in the seventh and the Cards went on to win out in the darkness of the eleventh inning on a homer by Martin, a single by Rothrock, Frisch's sacrifice and Medwick's one base hit.

The hope of the Chicago Cubs that they might catch either the Cardinals or the Giants received a death blow when Charlie Grimm's men dropped a pair of games to the Brooklyn Dodgers, 11-6 and 5-4.

Up in Boston the lowly Red Sox sprung a surprise by winning twice from the Braves, 2-1 and 5-2.

The Pirates and Phillips were rained out.

Tigers Advance

In the American league the New York Yankees, on the eve of their final series with the Detroit Tigers, lost a 5-2 decision to Mel Harder and the Cleveland Indians and as a result, are no less than 5½ games behind the rampaging Bengals. Harder's victory virtually clinched the pennant for the Tigers who defeated the Washington Senators, 2-1.

The Philadelphia Athletics took both ends of a bargain set by Bill from the St. Louis Browns, 2-1 and 2-0.

Encouraged by George Barnshaw's two-hit pitching in the first game for a 2-1 victory, the Chicago White Sox sank the Boston Red Sox under a heavy barrage of hitting in the last half of a double-header, 12-10.

ELLWOOD DEFEATS UNION HIGH 18-6

Bogomsky, Young Scopelite Score Touchdowns For Ellwood City High

SECOND TEAM SEES CONSIDERABLE ACTION

Locals Impressive In Initial Contest; Offensive Is Noticeably Improved

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 17.—The Ellwood City Elks annual stag picnic was a huge success last Saturday at Wise's Grove on the New Brighton road.

A large turnout thoroughly enjoyed a well conceived program during the day. There were games, contests and sports as a result of which a number of prizes were awarded. An interesting event was a mushball game between the Elks and the Ellwood Eagles. The former won 24-6. Joe Eckert and Bill Hampton pitched for the visitors, and Mike Sekulski and Huber for the losers.

Living up to predictions Coach Dave Morgan Boyd's gridders from Union Township again put up one of their hard battles that have caused them to be respected here.

The locals scored a touchdown in every quarter but the last. One half of the game was played by the local second team and scrubs.

Ellwood scored in the first quarter when they had received the opening kickoff and immediately started a straight and consistent drive for a touchdown, with Young and Bogomsky going for the ball.

Young skinned Union's left end to place the ball on the five yard line. Here Union dug in its toes and caused considerable trouble. It took the locals the whole four downs in which to bring the ball over for the touch-down.

In winning both ends of a double header from the world's champions, 5-3 and 3-1, yesterday, the two aces of the St. Louis Cardinals' mound staff, proved their ability to win under any and all conditions.

Dodgers Win Two.
Dizzy Dean worked the first game and although he was removed for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning, he was superb during the time he remained on the mound. It was Diz's 26th victory of the fading season.

The nightcap, the desperate Giants sent their ace of aces, Carl Hubbell, to the mound against the younger of the Dean brothers. Jimmy Collins' 33rd homer of the year tied the score in the seventh and the Cards went on to win out in the darkness of the eleventh inning on a home run by Martin, a single by Rothrock, Frisch's sacrifice and Medwick's one base hit.

The hope of the Chicago Cubs that they might catch either the Cardinals or the Giants received a death blow when Charley Grimm's men dropped a pair of games to the Brooklyn Dodgers, 11-6 and 5-4.

Up in Boston the lowly Red Sox sprung a surprise by winning twice from the Braves, 2-1 and 5-2.

The Pirates and Phillies were rained out.

Tigers Advance

In the American league the New York Yankees, on the eve of their final series with the Detroit Tigers, lost a 5-2 decision to Mel Harder and the Cleveland Indians and, as a result, are no less than 5½ games behind the rampaging Bengals. Harder's victory virtually clinched the pennant for the Tigers, who defeated the Washington Senators, 2-1.

The Philadelphia Athletics took both ends of a bargain day bill from the St. Louis Browns, 2-1 and 2-0.

Encouraged by George Earnshaw's two-hit pitching in the first game for a 2-1 victory, the Chicago White Sox sank the Boston Red Sox under a heavy barrage of hitting in the last half of a double-header, 12-10.

No Winner In Yacht Race As Time Expires

Rainbow Finishes First In
Race Saturday, But Consumes Too Much Time

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports
Editor

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 17.—Out there on the bounding blue bosom of the sound where for centuries men have gone down to the sea and women have wept, the crews of the Rainbow, representing the United States, and the Endeavor of England, will try again this morning to ast those fragile lily cups through the sea for 30 miles to a definite decision in the race for the America's cup. On Saturday they tried and failed. When the time limit of 5½ hours had expired, the Rainbow had been able to beat the Endeavor.

But it couldn't beat its own futility in light airs. It still was a half mile out of the course.

No Contest

So a lot of very prominent people, including the president of the United States, steamed back to port, sadly realizing, with the "no contest" announcement, that, after all, there is no contest like none at all.

Yet the 83 years of its history has so dramatized the event that not only the president but also a great financier, J. P. Morgan; a great industrialist, Edsel Ford; two great railroad men like Frederick H. Prince and Arthur Curtiss James, and scores of distinguished others, have gone completely maritime and will be out there, bobbing about with the estimated gallery of 50,000 originally.

Nonetheless this gay dog of a seaport town was an impressive show this morning with its narrow, winding, side hill streets a bustle with festive, roistering crowds and the skyline of the harbor etched with the white, shining hulls of a thousand ships, waiting for the word to go.

The race was to be fifteen miles each to windward and leeward, with the triangular course to be followed on alternate days. In other words, Saturday's contest was just as though it never had been. It was to be played all over again, with the cup to go to the yacht winning the first four in seven races.
